

TODDLIN' ACROSS AMERICA

I'm Angelica, a writer, mom to three toddlers, and influencer from northern Virginia. With degrees in Communications and Marketing Strategy and more than ten years of professional social media management experience under my belt, I offer a unique skill set to brands and destinations interested in reaching an engaged audience of families that want to travel together.

I engage everyday parents and grandparents who want to find family-friendly destinations, attractions, products and services. We help them get packed up, get out the door and get going on their toddler-sized adventures.

WHY PARTNER WITH US?

I'm here to serve your brand, spread your message and entice multigenerational families to visit your destination and purchase your product and services. Please let me know how I can help!

WE ARE PROFESSIONALS

After completing my Master's degree in Digital Marketing and Communications at Johns Hopkins University, I ran corporate, nonprofit, political and academic social footprints for over 10 years. Now, I apply my passion and expertise to the people and places I love. www.linkedin.com/in/angelicakajiwara

INFLUENCE

Our engaged readers trust our recommendations because they see us traveling with our 3 toddlers and my mom. We've created an "if they can do it, we can do it" feel across our channels. We also offer our readers a chance to ask for our tips, tricks and travel recommendations via our Instagram and Facebook pages.

THE CUTE FACTOR

The faces of our website draw in our readers to want to read more. They have been featured in nationwide marketing campaigns for many of the brands we partner with.
